Not illustrated. 1853 Excerpt: . found on her slate, on which she was accustomed to write notes for copying, the following lines: O that I were a Christian! How happy I should be! How happy my dear mother would be! And would it not be pleasing to God? Why am I not one? This pencilling had no date, but was probably written not long before the commencement of the journey on which she died; and these were perhaps the last sentences she ever wrote. He who will not break the bruised reed, nor quench the smoking flax, had, we doubt not, regarded her earnest desire here expressed, (though by no means now felt for the first time,) to be a lamb of His flock, and adopted her among the chosen of his fold Her change, as in all cases of conversion, was of course instantaneous; but its precise date...

Reviews

A whole new eBook with a new point of view. It can be rally fascinating throgh studying period of time. I am delighted to explain how this is actually the finest book i have read through during my very own life and could be he best publication for at any time.

-- Scarlett Stracke

The publication is easy in read better to understand. It is writter in basic words and phrases rather than hard to understand. You wont truly feel monotony at anytime of your respective time (that's what catalogues are for about if you question me).
