During the same time, the screw will have moved in the direction of its axis through a distance equal to the distance between two threads of the screw, and this is the direction in which the resistance is encountered. Hence the work done against the resistance W is $W \times$ distance between the threads. If C be the circumference described by the extremity of P 's arm and d be the distance between two adjoining threads, and if P and W be respectively the force applied and the pressure produced, $P \times CW \times \text{tf, or } l - .
